HISTORY

A warm welcome from Glencoe House,

Following a complete restoration, Glencoe House opened its doors on the 16th August 2012 and offers elegant accommodation in the heart of the Scottish Highlands. This historic, Victorian mansion provides our guests with tranquility and outdoor adventure in equal measure.

Elegant Suites in 10 acres of private gardens

Wedding Venue

Glencoe House currently has three suites that comprise of one or two bedrooms, lavish bathrooms and personal lounges which boast a myriad of period features such as marble fireplace and ornate ceilings.

The suites range from 120 -137 sqm so regardless of the weather, Glencoe House allows you to return to the comfort and refuge of your own suite.

Glencoe House offers the perfect venue for a memorable wedding day in the wild and romantic Highlands. Our historic reception rooms are unrivalled for their elegance and can seat 80 guests. We pride ourselves in our professional service to ensure we make your special day unique.

Food and Drink

Glencoe House

serves breakfast and informal evening meals at your own dining table in the privacy and sanctuary of your own sitting room rather than providing a conventional restaurant setting.

Sit back and enjoy the locally sourced seafood platter supplied by The Lochleven Seafood Café, which was voted Scottish seafood restaurant of the year in 2011. Each of the suites at Glencoe House has a generous in room bar or 'maxi bar' containing for example a range of whisky and can be found on the antique side board along with crystal glasses for those who relish a fireside drink in the evening.
