

Roy Houston ABIPP

Photographic Workshops

Roy Houston is a qualified and dedicated teacher of photography with extensive knowledge covering all aspects of creative photographic image making.

Our day courses and residential workshops are located on the shores of Loch Leven at the edge of Glencoe in the Scottish West Highlands and are designed specifically for individuals and couples. So come for a day and you will have Roy's full attention.

We offer an experience that will inspire you whilst you enjoy one of Scotland's most beautiful landscapes.

It is a unique opportunity to learn tailored to your own needs. From composition, exposure and digital enhancement to fine art printing; as you learn new skills others will become your next horizon.

We will make you welcome and inspire you to produce beautiful images and prints.

Come for a Day

We can offer you a day course. It's activity packed starting with location photography in the dramatic Glencoe area before editing and enhancing your best images and printing onto fine art paper. Take it with you to be framed; it's a Print in a Day
