Glencoe House: July 2014 Newsletter

The summer days here in Glencoe are lovely and long – in fact it is only dark for a matter of hours at this time of the year! We have taken full opportunity of the extended days and continue to develop our ideas and we would like to update you on what have we have been up to.

Strengthening the Canadian Connections

Roger and Judy, the guardians of Glencoe House, have recently followed in the footsteps of Lord Strathcona and visited Montreal and Toronto.

The Stables Creates Memories

It is staggering how influential and fondly remembered the founder of Glencoe House continues to be across the pond. See Facebook to see Roger and Judy at the Strathcona Horse monument in Dominion Square in Our newly established event space, The Stables, has recently hosted business meetings, a wedding fair but most memorably

Montreal. Also look out for the new historic photos that are coming online soon; see Lord Strathcona as you have never seen him before!

See here for a full report on travelhotnews.com.

New: professional in-suite massage therapy

In response to numerous requests from guests who have experienced aching muscles once the elation of conquering Ben Nevis has subsided, we are happy to announce a new partnership with Suzy Devey from Lochaber Mountain Therapy. Suzy is extremely experienced in both sports massage and also Swedish massage; her professional tailor made treatments only add to the relaxation offered at Glencoe House. The consultation and treatment takes place in the privacy of your suite so there is no need to make your way to a spa with others; see here for further details.

a beautiful and memorable wedding for 150 guests. The wedding couple and guests alike relished a sumptuous meal created by Brian Gunn, from Bayleaf, followed by dancing the night away; there was no end to the energy, laughs and smiles! For further details see here.

Hidden Gem: Cringletie House

Aside from updating you on our new developments, we also like to share any newfound gems that might be of interest to the Glencoe House community. Do you want it all; easy access to all that Edinburgh offers but with opulent accommodation in a tranquil setting? Well why compromise? Cringletie House is your place. It is located within 30 minutes of Edinburgh and offers you an inimitable castle experience in conjunction with a warm smile and generous hosts. We loved the place and couldn't help but tell you about it. Check it out for yourself at cringletie.com.
